International Conference on Curriculum Consciousness, Curriculum Construction and Curriculum Capacity Building

November 14-16, 2014

College of Education, Zhejiang University, Hangzhou

Changes of the era occurred in the 21st century leads to a vigorous curriculum reform internationally. Along with the continuous deepening of curriculum reform, curriculum theorists and practitioners are experiencing a new journey to understand and to construct school curriculum. To provide multi-dimension meaningful learning experiences for students, it's not only important to developing curriculum consciousness among curriculum scholars and educational practitioners, but also urgent to improve school curriculum through curriculum capacity building of teachers and principals. The issues of what kind curriculum consciousness should be and can be initiated and developed, what kind of curriculum the schools and teachers can transform and develop, what kind of curriculum capacity should be emphasized and built, and how can we work on a brighter future through these efforts; have become challenging questions for us to explore.

This conference try to provide a platform for an in-depth dialogue and communication to facilitate domestic and international curriculum scholars and practitioners exchange researches and views in the area of strengthening curriculum consciousness, curriculum construction and curriculum capacity.

Experts and scholars in the study of curriculum theory and practice are very much welcome to participate this conversation. At the same time teachers and principals from primary and secondary schools are also invited to participated in. all Attendees will carry out exchanges and discussions deeply about the frontier and hot issues on Curriculum Consciousness, Curriculum Construction and Curriculum Capacity Building.
